Dear Harold, thank you for your long letter!

I'm sorry I have to send you this letter handwritten, but I try to make it readable and I make it short. You will soon get a longer letter from me where I will tell you more about the ongoing trial against six high chiefs of police concerning their unconstitutional bugging of the homes of some Kurdish political refugees — all part of a probably not so honest attempt to put the blame for the Palme murder on people who were the ideal villains in the eyes of the police.

As you remember I am writing a book about it. Already it seems obvious that I will be the single journalist most acquainted with this case — even though I'm not working with the support of a big newspaper or the like. Only with a rather small sum of money in advance from the book publisher. You will not be surprised of course — you do not have any illusions concerning the serious ambitions of big media.

However, just two things:

- 1) I enclose a copy — as you asked — of the news article in the Stockholm afternoon tabloid Aftonbladet, Aug 7, 1990 about Ricky White.

Translation of the headline: "My daddy shot the president"
Ricky White steps forward 26 years after the murder of John F Kennedy

This is the only lengthy article I have seen about ^{it}. There has also been a short news telegram sent out from the Swedish news agency TT. I send it if I can get it.

- 2) I also enclose a 10 $-bill for your copying of the 100-page FBI document on Oswald.

I think it will cover your costs. If not, let me know.
If there is some money left - don't send it back. Copy something else that you might find interesting for me or keep it for further copies that I might ask you to send in the future.

Best wishes

Gunnar Wall

PS. The other day I found a copy of the Warren Report in a bookstore for used books. It will be good to have around when I study your Whitewash books. Right now, though, I'm only reading thousands of pages of the prosecutor's preliminary inquiry material concerning the bugging.
